One of the best names yet mentioned as a successor to Frank Greene when he is called to the Senate is that of Warren Austin of Burlington. Mr. Austin is too busy attending to his legal affairs to give politics much attention, but we believe that if there is a call for him he will heed the same. Certainly, he would be an honor to Vermont were he made a member of Congress.

A late issue of the Rutland Herald has the following concerning R. S. Page of Hyde Park:

"Russ" Page, son of Senator Carroll S. Page, will be a candidate for the State Senate from Lamoille county. Young Mr. Page is a pretty good business man, interested in town and state affairs, personally popular and likely to be a pretty good member."

All quiet on the Governor question just now. No new developments, unless it be that Redfield Proctor has not yet "spoken" and that Major Jackson does not want anything, unless it be National Commander of the American Legion, a position that a host of friends would like to see him get. It is said that Frank Howe has about decided not to enter the field, but may be persuaded to take the Bennington postmastership, which surely is much more remunerative than the Governorship, and far less "kicking."

The Vermont Press Association had a very fine time at their annual meeting in Boston last week. They were royally entertained by the press and the paper dealers of that city. In addition to pleasure they "talked shop" and imparted much practical information to each other. Gatherings of this kind are surely beneficial and a sort of oasis in the continual grind of publishing a newspaper. We are sure all who went on this trip were greatly benefitted by the brief outing.

It is quite early to dabble into state politics, but all the same when it is the cry generally that the best men must be selected for the next Legislature, it would be only correct to say that if Morrismont wants to have a man in the next House who would well and ably represent that town and would also be found exerting the right influence for curtailment of superfluous expenses it would make no mistake in selecting Levi M. Munson. Levi has sterling business qualities, is well posted upon all state and local affairs and would make a record that would be a credit to his town. Why not Munson?

Paint Your Car with Murphy Da-cote

Just to remind you

You have probably been thinking a long time about painting your car with Murphy Da-cote Motor Car Enamel. A million men wasted a lot of time thinking about it before they produced their million fine jobs. The painting itself only takes about two hours, the cost is negligible, and no brush skill is required. Da-cote means—"A coat today—dry tomorrow"—a new car in twenty-four hours!

Just to remind you, we are putting a big Da-cote display in our window. Next time you pass, come in and learn more about Da-cote. It comes in black and white and ten popular colors. There's no limit to color combinations.
